After 20 years at Marrokal and 30 years in the industry, I feel blessed to love what I do. My journey started at the age of 14, performing tasks such as trash collection and ditch digging. I progressed to become a carpenter into my later teen years, then obtained my contractor's license and a degree in design and architecture. Since then, my commitment to the remodeling industry has never wavered.

After a decade of residential remodeling in the Bay Area, I moved to Southern California to join Marrokal. I wanted to focus on great design and customer service with the best design-build team in San Diego.

I love seeing the pride and satisfaction my clients experience initially, at the conclusion of their project, and then over time. I witness and hear how the remodeled space impacts their lives, how they live day to day, how they raise their families, and how they entertain friends. Home is a special place, and good design is paramount.

EDUCATION AND CERTIFICATIONS:

Bachelor's degree, Design and Architecture
University of California, Berkeley.

Construction Management Certification
California State University, Sonoma.

CAPS (certified aging in place specialist)
National Home Builders Association.

CGBP (certified green building professional)
Green Home Institute.

“What struck us the most was how Steven was able to take everything that we disliked about the house, reinterpret those flaws and design our dream home. He came up with ideas and architectural renderings that blew us away. With a dose of reality and a few revisions, we came up with the perfect plans for our remodel. - Thank You!”

“Steven and his team quickly developed multiple concepts for us to consider, many of which we had never even considered. After years of pondering this remodel, our only regret is that we did not call Marrokal sooner.”

CLIENT ADVOCATE AND VISIONARY:

I act as the client's advocate throughout the entire remodel. It is a complex process with many variables. I realize we are dealing with their home and large investments (time and money), and I take this responsibility very seriously.

My job is to help clients define their goals and create options, maximizing value and efficiency. Successfully navigating hundreds of remodels allows me to anticipate and mitigate mistakes and challenges before they arise. When something does come up, the entire Marrokal team has a wealth of knowledge and experience—a solution is always available.

SAMPLE PROJECTS:

Whole House Remodel with Second Story Addition

Outdoor Living Area (OLA) Remodel

Whole Condo Remodel in Downtown High-rise

Whole House Remodel with Addition and OLA

AWARDS AND PUBLICATIONS:

Over the years, many of our projects have earned design awards, been published in newspapers and magazines, and been selected for design tours. Although it is nice to be acknowledged by peers and the media, I credit my team and clients for their visions and our collective efforts; we consistently create beautiful spaces that exceed the client's expectations.
